

About

Marian W. Valotton, experienced in senior management, organizational development, coaching and facilitation, is a learning professional and consultant who has worked across a wide range of industries including pharmaceutical, food, health, retail, and manufacturing in both the profit and not-for-profit sectors. Her expertise is in developing in-house talent, strategically affect corporate culture, and improve business results. She is passionate about learning!

Individuals and organizations have benefited from her high impact approach to training, instructional design and interactive facilitation skills. She has designed and implemented leadership, sales, customer service, interpersonal skills and operational training programs for major corporations. She is a graduate of the University of Dayton earning a Bachelor of Science in Marketing and has completed Master's-level coursework in Instructional Systems at Penn State University. She has been instrumental in building MEA's Public Training Course Catalog. See events <http://www.meainfo.org/training/calendar>.

Specialties: She is a qualified Myers-Briggs Type Indicator® trainer and is certified as a WebEx facilitator for live web-based training and has designed an online interactive management series. She has been certified in ROI Analysis for Training Initiatives, Online Design and Facilitation through ATD. She has volunteered her time to design and conduct Breast Cancer Support Groups in the Greater Philadelphia area and has been certified as a Yoga instructor who volunteers at the Cancer Support Community in Philadelphia.